PRESIDENT'S REPORT

The season of 2011 continued the recent trend of an ever increasing rugby calendar for our referees, commencing in late January with Super Rugby, continuing through the year with domestic, provincial and international matches, Rugby World Cup, Sevens and finally, in early December, several Tests involving Pacific nations.

To their credit, our referees took to their responsibilities with aplomb, across all levels. This reflects well upon all concerned, and helps to maintain this association amongst the world's best. Relations between referees and other stakeholders are arguably the best they have ever been, and this is essential for the game to evolve positively. It is also a reflection of the quality of the individuals we have been fortunate to attract in recent years. We are now in the enviable position of our association comprising a well balanced mix of highly experienced and respected senior referees, through to hugely talented and promising younger referees.

The year itself saw many highlights. As with past seasons, many referees received opportunities at higher levels than those to which they had previously been accustomed. Not only does this provide a challenge, but also an incentive to those who wish to pursue their refereeing at the highest level they can.

In particular, several individuals' performances should be acknowledged. We were represented at Rugby World Cup 2011 by Steve Walsh and Matt Goddard, as referee and TMO respectively. Steve, Stuart Dickinson, Nathan Pearce and Ian Smith refereed numerous Super Rugby matches. Andrew Lees and Anthony Moyes refereed at a number of iRB Sevens tournaments. Andrew and Angus Gardner also refereed Currie Cup (SA) and ITM Cup (NZ) matches respectively. These gents were subsequently rewarded with their first Test matches in December, and have been elevated to the Super Rugby Reserve Referee Panel for 2012. Sincere congratulations go to Andrew and Angus, who provide a great example to younger referees. Similarly, Anthony Moyes, Richard Goswell, Will Houston and Ed Martin have been elevated to the ARU National Referee Squad for 2012. We also embarked upon our regular interchange with Auckland RRA. Matt Kellahan was selected and represented us extremely well in NZ. Several of our members assisted in hosting Auckland referee, Ben Skeen, when he visited us in return, and their contribution is gratefully acknowledged.

Congratulations also go to the Grand Final referees, listed elsewhere in this report. Most finals groups were very evenly contested which is a testimony to the growing depth within this association. This is not only a reflection of the referees themselves, but of the dedication, selflessness and hard work of our Referee Coaches, ably chaired by Michael Tanzer. This exceptional group provides the information, motivation and education required to help those "in the middle" to reach their potential.

In addition, enormous thanks go to the ARU/NSWRU Referee Departments, who provide the "nuts and bolts" of refereeing in this state. The work of Ron Mancell, Jamie McGregor and Robin Timmins, in providing educational material, its implementation, and all other aspects of administration is recognized and gratefully acknowledged.

I would like to especially mention the retirements of Stuart Dickinson and Dick Byres from their respective roles. Stuart's contribution to refereeing in this state, and indeed worldwide has been enormous and well documented. We wish Stuart, Fiona and their family all the best in their relocation to Queensland, and look forward to welcoming them back into the NSWRRRA family anytime. Likewise, Dick will also be relocating to the sunny climes of Queensland.

Dick's contribution has also been monumental, and rugby generally will be the poorer without them. Although, I suspect both will not stay under the radar for too long!

Further thanks and acknowledgement go to our esteemed Life Members, who have done, and in many cases, continue to contribute to the fabric of this association. Whilst we must move with the times, they provide a tangible link to the fine traditions that have been built over many years.

I would also like to express gratitude and appreciation to our wives and partners who continue to support our endeavours, whether they be aspirational or recreational.

Off the field, the association was instrumental in providing a sound social environment, which saw numerous social activities. The most significant of these was the Annual Dinner and Awards night, again held at Cabana Lounge. It proved to be another wonderful evening and it was great to see so many of our referees across all ages and experience levels, and so many partners, in attendance. We are always keen to expand this important aspect of the association, for it is through this avenue that much of the on-field teamwork is derived.

Finally, I would like to thank my Executive team of Michael Blair, Phil Baird and Callan O'Neill for their outstanding contribution to the running of this association. These gents have busy professional careers, yet somehow find the time to carry out any assigned duties with great competence, diligence and good humour.

Again, it has been my honour and privilege to serve this fine association as your President. I look forward to a prosperous and successful 2012.

NSW RUGBY REFEREE DEPARTMENT REPORT

The department again provided education in the form of courses, education nights and seminars to both metropolitan and regional areas throughout the season. Within Sydney, we conducted education for referees in four venues every month from March to August and we visited and conducted education to all regional referee association at least once during the year.

Our development programs for referees continued in 2011 and were very successful. The number of squads and referees within these squads was increased in 2010 with the addition of a two new groups catering for more mature and experienced referees. This has been a very successful initiative and anecdotally we have seen an improvement in refereeing across the whole spectrum of referees. We would like to acknowledge the work of the squad coaches. Without their input and hard work, these programs would not be successful.

The School Scholarship Program was particularly successful and had as its highlight refereeing the entire State U14 Championships in Orange. The best referee from the championship was chosen and refereed the final at Concord. Jamie McGregor, Matt Kellahan and Tim Wills should be congratulated for the way they conducted the program and the young referees should be acknowledged for their exceptional performance.

A new initiative for 2011 was the presentation of the GMG to the suburban club coaches. Referees who normally refereed at this level were in attendance and at the end of the presentation many clubs "adopted a referee" to assist them through the year. This is similar to the GMG presentation conducted for Premier Clubs. These two initiatives have resulted in a reduction of complaints about refereeing performance.

The NSWRU Referees Department would like to thank MAZDA for their support in 2011. Unfortunately we commence 2012 without a sponsor and this will have an effect on when we receive gear for distribution to our referees.

We would also like to acknowledge the support of the NSWRRRA Executive, the Executive of each District and Country Zone and all referees throughout the state. We look forward to working with the executives and members again in 2012.

REFEREES MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE REPORT

The gains that were made in a solid refereeing coaching group in 2010 saw benefits in the number of games covered and quality of the group discussions around referee performance and coaching issues in 2011. The emphasis on referee self review and the presentation of a clear game understanding to the players by clearer pictures in the referees mind were the main educational and coaching points for the year. The referee educational and coach programs were very hands on, with presentations on the important emphasis in refereeing the game in 2011 being the "big 5" as formulated by the Australian Rugby Union, SANZAR and iRB. 2010 had a "big 4" being a strong emphasis on the tackler releasing and rolling clear, controlled scrum engagement, control of kick chasers to provide legal time to the receiving team and fair maul formation in lineout's and restarts. The addition of an emphasis on offside control on the defending team to add time and space was the fifth area of emphasis. It was pleasing to see that throughout all competitions there was less resets of scrums, generally increasing live ball time in all games and the extra space and faster ball providing better games. All referees are to be congratulated for their effort in delivering these outcomes and especially the buy in required to see a clear message given across all levels of the game.

As in 2010, the process of coaching, appointments and grading of referees is a collaborative effort between the management committee, NSWRU Referees Department and the coaching group. The empowerment of the referee coach in the appointment process was further cemented and will continue in the foreseeable future. As in aspects of life we can do better and we will continue to look at ways to improve. Our internal review of the referee and coach development toward the end of 2011 highlighted the need to move from the classroom more to the individual, for both the referee and the referee coach. This will deliver a better coaching outcome for the both parties in 2012 when referees will receive more one on one coaching and less lecture room style development. Further to this, a real emphasis on consistent clear messages from the coaching group, which was an important feature in 2011, will again be further developed in 2012. In looking to the future the importance of an open, honest and accountable relationship of both parties has been progressed but this need is paramount to the success of one on one coaching. My thanks go to all our diligent referee coaches in 2011. Their passion and commitment for the greater good of the game is an inspirational facet of their work. Their excellent attendance at meetings and real interest in their referees reflects this passion.

In a climate of change both at the national and international levels of refereeing, locally we continue to perform well. That said there is always more to be done and to be achieved. A focus on our processes to be the best we can be is crucial to further honours. 2011 was a world cup year for Rugby. Whilst not blessed with the numbers of representation from our hay days, NSW had two representatives at the World Cup. Our hearty congratulations go to Steve Walsh and Matt Goddard (TMO) on their excellent efforts for representing us and the ARU at the tournament. This year we saw the retirement of Stuart Dickinson from all levels of rugby. His contribution is an extraordinary effort in completing 50 Test matches, 97 Super Rugby games and three Rugby world cups and remains our most awarded referee. Stuart, Fiona and the kids have relocated to Brisbane and our loss is clearly a Queensland gain. Congratulations also go out to Angus Gardner and Andrew Lees on being appointed to their first test match and also their appointment to the SANZAR reserve referee panel for 2012. Andrew also represented the association in iRB Sevens with several finals including Adelaide as did Anthony Moyes who refereed the Hong Kong final. NSW has 10 of 14 members on the ARU National referee panel and remains the dominant association for selection to the ARU referee panel. Congratulations also to all the Grand Final Referees. Again another year when it was difficult to separate several of the referees reflects on the strong performances of all overall.

My thanks go to the fine work and support provided by Ron Mancell. Ron provides the management committee and general coaching group with solid guidance on all issues of administration, union policies and rules. A big thank you also goes to Robin Timmins. Robin has always been a tireless worker in referee administration. Her help in administering the appointments, looking after mid-week games, late changes, visiting referees and coordination of ticketing is second to none. Ian Fraser also requires mention and a huge vote of thanks. Ian looks after many of the colts, schools and subbies appointments and also works at meeting the referee coach's demands for coordinating suitable games for their refs and for them. Finally, no chairman can function without the support of their committee. The good counsel, support and wisdom provided by Wayne Erickson, Peter Marshall and John McCarthy is not without substantial sacrifice to their work and home life. For their good cheer in the way they approach their work and in making the process as enjoyable as possible, I thank them greatly.

Finally to my coaching colleagues and all the referees, my sincere thanks in the pursuit of a better game. The task of refereeing and coaching referees is at times thankless, lonely and difficult. It takes you from your family and at times work. It is in having an approach of self improvement to better the overall game where we receive our rewards. There were plenty of rewards for us all in 2011 and now let's build upon that base to be the best we can be for a better game again in 2012.

Crispin and Jeffery have audited the financial statements being a special purpose financial report comprising the Income and Expenditure Statement, Balance Sheet and Notes to the Financial Statements of the New South Wales Rugby Referees' Association Incorporated for the year ended 30th September 2011. The Executive Committee of the Association is responsible for the preparation and presentation of the financial statements and the information contained therein, and has determined that the accounting policies used and described in note 1 to the financial statements are appropriate to meet the needs of members.

Crispin and Jeffery have conducted an independent audit of the financial statements in order to express an opinion to the members of the New South Wales Rugby Referees' Association Incorporated on their presentation and preparation.

Crispin and Jeffery disclaims any assumption of responsibility for any reliance on this report or on the financial statements to which it relates to any person other than the members, or for any purpose other than for which it was prepared.

The audit has been conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. The procedures included an examination, on a test basis, of evidence supporting the amounts and other disclosures in the financial statements, and evaluation of significant accounting estimates. These procedures have been undertaken to form an opinion as to whether, in all material respects, the financial statements are prepared fairly in accordance with the accounting policies described in note 1 of the financial statements. STATEMENT BY THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

As stated in Note 1 to the financial statements, the Association is not a reporting entity because in the opinion of the Executive Committee, there is unlikely to exist users who are unable to command the preparation of reports tailored so as to satisfy all of their information needs. This is therefore a special purpose report that has been prepared to meet the requirements of the Associations Incorporated Act 1984.

In the opinion of the Executive Committee the accompanying financial statements are drawn up so as to give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Association as at the 30th of September 2011 and of its surplus for the year ended on that date in accordance with the accounting policies described in Note 1 to the financial statements. At the date of this statement there are reasonable grounds to believe that the Association can pay its debts as said when they fall due.

This statement is made in accordance with a resolution of the Executive Committee.
